Never Figure the Cost of Paint by what it costs "per gallon." So-called "cheap" paint is the dearest you can buy measured by the "job" cost, which is the only true measure of paint performance.

Remember this comparison when next you are inclined to buy "cheap" paint. There is none more economical than Lowe Brothers' "High Standard" Paints and Varnishes. We suggest that you try it.

World Conditions Steadily Improve

Announcement of the return of Great Britain to the gold standard on April 28 is the most significant event in world economies since the signing of the Armistice. Simultaneous with Great Britain's official action was taken by Australia and New Zealand, Holland and the Dutch East Indies. Canada is already on a gold standard basis and South Africa will revert to the gold standard on July 1.

The effects of this momentous decision was at once seen in the rise of the pound sterling on the New York market to the highest point in ten years and only less than the pre-war level. Reversion to the gold standard means greater stability in trade and commerce the world over, which, from the standpoint of Canada, is of vital importance because the chief difficulty confronting the producers and manufacturers of this country since the close of the war has been the unstable, fluctuating and at times chaotic condition of European markets.

In making the announcement in his budget speech, Mr. Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said: "We have entered on a period on both sides of the Atlantic when political and economic stability seems more assured than it has been for some years."

Return to the gold standard means an end to the enormous loss resulting from the adverse rate of exchange on the English pound sterling in the United States, Canada and other countries. It removes the uncertainty formerly existing in world money markets, and likewise removes what was a severe handicap on all international business.

Now that Canada is becoming more and more an exporting country, the importance of the action of the British Government can hardly be overestimated. An already noted chief difficulty confronting the producers of Canada for some years past has been in the marketing of our products abroad, and every step taken to re-establish world confidence and stability in trade and commerce means an enormous gain to Canada.

Mr. Churchill also announced the re-imposition of the old preferences and the McKenna duties which were abrogated by the Bannan Macdonald Government, and although this action does not affect food products, because Mr. Churchill reminded Canada to produce foodstuffs to be available for any taxation of food, it will nevertheless prove beneficial to certain Canadian industries, as, for example, tobacco, sugar and automobiles.

Of particular interest to the whole British people is the reduction proposed in the budget in the income tax, which is reduced by six pence in the pound, thus lightening to that extent the handicap now imposed on British industry by the enormous weight of taxation which must be borne in order to meet the huge interest payments on the war debt and provide for the gradual liquidation. As in the case of the return to a gold standard, every step taken to reduce the burden of taxation and revive industry throughout the British Isles, thereby lessening unemployment and increasing the purchasing power of the people, means a larger and more stable market for Canadian products.

In a recent interview Sir John Ald, President and General Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, stated that while his financial confidence in both the United States and Canada were sound, the return of international property was dependent on two things, the settlement of present European financial difficulties and the adoption by the world of a gold basis. "After these two things occur," said Sir John, "progress must be rapid."

With the entire English-speaking world on a gold basis a long step forward has been taken toward the realization of these essentials to world-wide business development and prosperity.

Canadian Cheese Imported

One-third of Cheese Imported by Britain Supplied by Canada

Canada supplied one-third of the cheese imported into Great Britain during the last three years. In that period, of $29,352,209 lbs. of cheese from Great Britain, Canada supplied 13,145,581 lbs. The Canadian exports of cheese to the Mother Country are increasing yearly, although prices for the best Canadian cheese are not so high as the best foreign ones, but for long hundredweight higher than for New Zealand cheese.

Is Comparatively Busy

James Livingston, Glimph, Ont., is busy man. When he was suggested for the office of secretary of the Moderation League, he declined. "I can run four full farms, two newspaper, one hotel and an auctioneer's business," he said, in announcing that he thought it would be impossible for him to act. He was excused.

Would Have Baron Byng Remain

Governor-General Is Invited To Remain A Second Term of Office

It is understood on good authority that Baron Byng will be invited to serve a second term of office as Governor-General of Canada. His five-year term expires in July, 1926, and it is now apparent very possible that he will remain for a further term. There has been much speculation as to who will succeed Baron Byng. Whether or not he will succeed himself now seems to be a matter for his own choice.

Called His Bluff

"Funny about Deacon Pratt. Very smart-minded, you know." "What's he been doing now?" "At the meeting last evening Lord Goode asked him to lead in prayer, and before he knew what he was saying he said: 'It isn't my lead, I didn't!'"

What a happy old world this would be if we could only see others as we see ourselves!

The Arabs who were mourning to signify their disapproval of Lord Balfour's visit to Palestine have not hit on any very new idea. In England the same plan has been tried by civil servants. On the day the scheme became operative the men at the various offices wearing black ties, and the women operators wore crepe bands.

It will be built with the idea that a European war cannot come within ten years, and will have provisions to make it effective against inventions that may be developed during that time. Monster flying machines carrying tons of explosives, which can kill most of London's population within a few hours, will be housed underground, protected by steel embankments that can resist any air attack. The difficulty of having a taking-off field to run aeroplanes up, will be obtained by arranging a catapult system by which machines will be shot into the air.

Wolves Contaminate A Nuisance Should Be Eliminated In Settled Districts and Game Preserves

When the evidence is in favor of and against the wolf is weighed, the only possible conclusion is that it should be eliminated in settled districts and game preserves. While their fur is of some value, and they destroy noxious rodents and bush rabbits, they are the cause of much trouble. According to a new bulletin distributed by the publication branch of the federal department of agriculture they kill large numbers of deer, young moose and other game. In inhabited districts they make sheep and cattle nervous, and will kill young calves, cattle or any kind of stock they have.

Gave Name to Douglas Fir Tree Was Discovered in Oregon 100 Years Ago By David Douglas

"One hundred years ago, April 7, 1825, David Douglas discovered Douglas fir, the tree that bears his name. In 1825 Douglas was surveying the Oregon territory, now the state of Oregon, but at that time British territory, on behalf of the Royal Horticultural Society of England, and first came across samples of the famous tree that was to bear his name. Douglas was very much impressed at the time by the virtues of Douglas fir, and in his journal he wrote that he measured specimens in feet in circumference and 227 feet high.

Noted Woman Writer Is Dead

Miss Katharine Hughes Was Well Known in the West

News was received recently of the death in New York of Miss Katharine Hughes, famous short story writer and journalist, and former vice-president of the Canadian Women's Press Club. She has resided in New York during recent years.

Miss Hughes was a talented writer, and her death cuts short a brilliant career. In the course of her active participation in the field of journalism, Miss Hughes held many important positions, and her writings, based on some of her assignments in the United States and England have proven of standing value.

Born in Melbourne, P.E.I., she received her early education in Canada. Before taking up newspaper work she was actively engaged for some years in the uplift of native Indian races. In 1903 she joined the editorial staff of the Montreal Star, and three years later went west to be associated with the Edmonton Bulletin, in which she was in the press gallery of the Alberta Legislature. Later she became provincial architect for Alberta. In 1913 she was appointed to the position of secretary for Alberta, and while in London contributed many brilliant articles to Canadian newspapers dealing with the possibilities of the west for intending settlers.

There was a deplorable lack of flag display in Claresholm on Empire Day. This should not be so. While it is true that there was no celebration on this place, that is not a valid excuse for failure to fly the flag on a patriotic holiday. There are few towns in Alberta so lacking in the visible evidence of patriotism as this town. It is time to wake up and get away from this careless attitude.

The gold mines of northern Ontario are said to have yielded a higher income during the first quarter of 1925 than in any similar period in their history. Estimates place the income of mining companies in the Porcupine district at nearly six million dollars and in the Kirkland District at one and a quarter millions.

In an effort to individualize the name of Saint John, N.B., the City Corporation, Board of Trade, and other organizations are in future to spell its name out in full. This port has grown rapidly in importance in recent years and in addition to being the winter headquarters of the fleet of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is also a port of call for numerous lines operating between the United States and Europe, as well as the centre of a large fishing industry.

Would Create Land Reserve

Toronto Paper Offers Suggestion For Building of Peace River Lines

The Toronto Globe says it has suggested that to meet the intense demand for land in the Peace River area, the Government should create a land reserve, and the inevitable operating deficits before the lands be opened up are fully covered. The Globe estimates that the Government would have to set apart to be sold at $5 per acre to actual settlers on easy payment, and that the proceeds be earmarked as a subvention for the construction of the Peace River line and its operation by the National Railways. The Globe believes that this line is not only practicable, but that it would be immensely popular. There are few settlers who would not be prepared to pay $5 an acre of a bonus to secure land located near a railway. Men who have built farms on, driven and in some cases sold in the Peace River area, know that it is worth more than $5 an acre to secure a location near an elevated railway. It is the opinion of this report could be made the new policy of co-operation between the Government and C.P.R. The line of this report would be the new direct and economical routes might well be applied to the Peace River situation, and the British Lake could be utilized as a medium of freight originating on C.P.R. lines in the Peace River as well as the line of the National Railways. This means settlement that is attracted to the Edmonton & Dunvegan territory as well as to the twenty-five miles to the National line, and both railways would profit from the building of the short route to the Pacific.

Sunlight For Animals Important

Buildings With Large Windows Are Best

Plant physiologists have long known that sunlight played a most important part in the development of all green plants. Several experiments have recently adopted the same view with regard to the growth of animals. National animal husbandry, which sunlight and no sunlight were the main considerations in the feeding experiments, have demonstrated that sunlight is a very important factor in growth and normal development of young animals.

Sunlight is true if we are prepared to expose it indoors, but to have abundant sunlight in the buildings where livestock are housed seems almost impossible. Several theories, it is well known, will. All livestock buildings should be situated in such a manner that sunlight may enter as readily as possible. One of the best ways of securing part of the day, every day, four of five hours possible, while buildings with large windows, narrow structures with large windows have taken their place. L. Stevenson, Ontario Agricultural College.

Speed Of Shooting Stars

Travel At Rate Of Forty-five Miles A Second

Speeds as high as forty-five miles a second are attained by meteors, the shooting stars, as they streak across the earth's atmosphere and burn up in a final brief blaze of glory, according to Prof. C. M. Sparrow, of the University of Virginia. The meteorites, he says, are small bodies which, entering the upper atmosphere of the earth, are heated to incandescence and remain visible at night until they are completely burned up, or fall to earth. The heights at which they enter vary between fifty and a hundred miles above the earth. At that altitude the atmosphere is believed to be almost nonexistent, the gas used in balloons. Hydrogen bombs but one hundred thousand part of the earth's atmosphere at the ground level. The light, it is thought, is produced as the meteorite, its density diminishes so slowly with increasing height as to outlast the heavier hydrogen and oxygen—Glenville McChesney.

Canadian Dollar At Par

From disquietude, the New York Times says that the Canadian dollar is now par at par. At no time, however, has the dollar been over one-half of one percent. Bankers ascribe the reason for the rise to par to the fall of the Canadian dollar as the natural result of steadily improving conditions in the Dominion.

Alberta Appoints

The beneficiaries of the Alberta Relief Act held a meeting recently and organized the Alberta Benefactors' Association. There are now nearly 200 benefactors in the province, and had year money $6,000,000 of money was produced.

The Bills Balanced

Doctor Castigated Charge For Drilling

While out walking one afternoon a workman engaged of Baltimore, who was enjoying a vacation in the hills of Western Maryland, stopped at a neat but unpretentious little house and asked for a drink of water. The housewife, who answered him, said that she was preparing chicken soup and that she would bring it down in a few minutes. She then went inside and returned with a glass and a pitcher of milk, fresh and cool from the spring house. The doctor drank two glasses, thanked her graciously and offered to pay for the milk, but the girl refused to accept anything. A brief conversation followed in which the doctor learned that her name was Mary Field, and that she made her home there with her mother and father, who were away at the time.

Three months later a young woman was brought into the doctor's private hospital. She was dirty, and in need of a bath, and an operation was necessary at once. As the patient was wheeled into the operating room the doctor recognized the young woman who had given him the milk. She was now a patient, and he was now a doctor. He was now a doctor, and she was now a patient. He was now a doctor, and she was now a patient.

Gypsies Claim Permit To Steal

Believe It Is Permissible Once Every Seven Years

Gypsies have always, whether justly or unjustly, been regarded as thieves. The Romans have ever felt that the world is against him and he is against the world. Gypsies were severely persecuted in days gone by and, until less than a hundred years ago there was a law in England making it a crime, punishable by hanging, simply to belong to the race or to speak their language. There is a legend among the Arabian Gypsies that when Christ came to be crucified, the Roman soldiers came to a gypsy smith and asked him to forge the four nails for the cross. One of the nails was refused, and the smith refused in spite of every threat, and when the nails were finally made by a Jew, the smith refused to touch them. He succeeded in stealing only one, and that he hid on the crucifix one nail both for and by a single nail. To reward the gypsy for his most laudable efforts, the Lord has granted permission to every member of the race to steal once in seven years. A gypsy does not steal because he is too weak to resist the temptation, but from topsy-turvy principles.

The tour will last six months. In addition, visits will be arranged in Banff.

Garnet Wheat Is Tested For Baking

Seed Not Ready For Distribution Says Dominion Cerealist

Garnet wheat, which Dominion Government agents have bred to mature 12 days earlier than the famous Marquis, is not yet ready for general distribution, according to Dr. Newman, Dominion cerealist, who was in Winnipeg in connection with the inauguration of research work at the Manitoba Agricultural College station.

"The new wheat should ultimately prove a boon to the north, where early frost is a bad handicap," Dr. Newman declared. "It came in early and particularly able to resist drought."

In experiments at Saskatoon, where the season was unfavorable and dry last year, it topped all other breeds of wheat in productiveness. Experiments on plots of a few square yards were conducted in April of 1927, 1500 yards of the Dominion. "From the yield per row the number of bushels per acre is calculated."

Grinding and baking tests are now in progress. Dr. Newman said, but the quality of Garnet wheat is still in doubt for distribution among the farmers of the prairie provinces. A definite pronouncement as to the value of the new breed is likely at the end of the summer, he said.

Sweden's Wealth Growing

Taxable Income Nets the Government $29,000,000 This Year

An average of $1,411 for every man, woman and child, or in total of $2,976,000,000, is the amount of Sweden's taxable wealth, according to an estimate by the auditing ministry, recently published by Stockholm. (The United States the per capita wealth is estimated at $2,500.)

The total taxable income of the people during the year 1924 rose to $1,322,000,000, and the total revenue of the Swedish government for the budget year 1925-26 is estimated at $170,000,000, the last two items being disclosed in official estimates.

Sweden's national wealth is growing at the rate of 7.55 per cent a year. The taxable income of the Swedish people, note the government report, $29,000,000 this year, which happens to be equal to the amount of revenue which the state expects to collect during the next budget year on the manufacture and distribution of liquor. It is calculated that the tobacco monopoly will yield a revenue of $12,000,000 and the automobile tax $10,000,000.

Discovered Many Products

George Carver, who was born into slavery in the United States fifty years ago, and was kidnapped by raiders and exchanged shortly afterwards for a horse, has discovered many products from starchy substances. From the peanut he has obtained 167 distinct products, and from the sweet potato 120. To reward the gypsy for his most laudable efforts, the Lord has granted permission to every member of the race to steal once in seven years. A gypsy does not steal because he is too weak to resist the temptation, but from topsy-turvy principles.

Natural Resources Bulletin

Towns of Neat Appearance Make a Favorable Impression on the Transient

The natural resources intelligence service of the department of the interior at Ottawa says:

How often, as the tourist is driving through the country, he refers to the signs and the appearance of the body seems to care about its appearance.

It is a regrettable fact, however, that in far too many Canadian municipalities a spirit of "don't care" pervades the residents, and this is evidenced in the appearance of the village. The roads are in good condition, but the sidewalks are dilapidated, the fences are out of repair, and tidiness and the planting of flowers is not thought of.

It is with a sigh of relief that probably the next place through which the driver passes has some leader among the residents who has inspired them with a feeling of pride in their home village, and what a difference it makes. You can feel it as soon as you enter the place. You would like to stop because it is inspiring and appealing, and there is a spirit of welcome at every turn. It is any wonder that such places are ahead?

"Time was when anything would do, but that day is past, and it is hoped will never return."

It used to be that railway stations had an unkempt appearance, but with city stationmasters to visit each other to see who can make his station the more attractive, and the railway and enterprise is appreciated as much by the railway that prices are lowered.

Canada's attractions to tourists have to speak largely through her smaller communities. This year there were more visitors than usual. Why not what we can put on the best front possible, so that our visit can carry away a good impression. Surely a leader can be found in each community who is ambitious enough to start a clean-up and dress-up movement.

Oldest Living Things Known

Louises Now Growing From Seed Possibly 4000 Years Old

The oldest living things on earth, so far as is known, are now growing and flourishing in water at the Thompson Institute for National Research at Yonkers, N.Y.

These most venerable of living things are lotuses. The seed from which they are germinating are possibly 4000 years old. They were excavated from the deeply covered bed of a lake which long since dried up near Durban, in Manchuria.

Under careful treatment the ancient lotus seeds put forth shoots, which broke the surface of the tank. It was two or three years, however, before they flower.

The story that when from ancient Egyptian tombs would grow again is a myth of the most stubborn character, which has persisted in spite of plentiful evidence that wheat grain can not live more than twenty-five years at the most.

Game in Saskatchewan

A bag of 155,000 ducks, 57,700 prairie chickens, 12,200 partridges and 5,000 geese, was secured in Saskatchewan last season by slightly over 4,000 hunters who reported to the provincial game commissioner. It is estimated that another 10,000 hunters in the province shot birds last year, but so far they have failed to report their bags.

Futility of War

General Sir Arthur Currie Has a Message for Peace

"War is stupid and futile, and the last war proved that we did not win," said General Sir Arthur W. Currie, G.C.M.G., at the Ypres Day celebration at Verdun, Que. "We remember the horrors, the loneliness, the sorrow and the tears, not yet dry. I said in what I considered to be the privacy of an officers' mess that as long as men have warm blood in their veins, war is bound to be." He had nothing to remark.

The celebrations at Verdun were conducted under the auspices of the Great War Veterans' Association and took the form of a parade by units of the active militia and ex-service men.

The late commander of the Canadian corps recalled the second battle of Ypres and took occasion to point out that it was a five-day battle, not a three-day battle, as some sections of the press constantly state. The spirit of the men when the battle was commenced was that they were ready. The cry of each man was: "What do you want me to do? There were great battles to be fought in Ypres as well as in war, and history showed that men will follow those who can lead and there were thousands of men who were ready to follow their leaders. 'What do you want me to do?'"

That Canadians could save the situation today, Sir Arthur was certain. Sir Arthur urged upon his conception of the British Empire, which was not a geographical term, but an ideal of freedom.

Building Permits

Indication Already Points to Greater Activity in 1928

Building permits issued in Canada during the month of March, 1928, indicated a substantial increase in value of $2,676,100, or 46.3 per cent, as compared with March last aggregated $1,827,791.

Reports from sixty cities in Canada, tabulated by the Dominion bureau of statistics, indicate that permit values in March last aggregated $4,857,791 in value, as contrasted with $5,816,612 in the preceding month, and with $9,265,070 in March, 1924.

Detailed statements were furnished by some fifty cities, showing that they had issued over 2,100 permits for dwellings valued at nearly $5,200,000, and about 1,900 permits for other buildings at an estimated cost of approximately $2,500,000.

The largest actual gain of $2,255,118, or 118.2 per cent, was in Ontario, but Manitoba showed the greatest percentage advance of 457.35 per cent, or 27.1 per cent.

Biologist Says Flies Are Poets

Julian Huxley, eminent biologist, says flies are poets. A fly in a box was seen to devour a small insect, but when a female fly was placed in the box with it, the insect was killed by the male and given to the male. When the female was removed, the male remembered her manners by eating another insect and saving it for the "wife."

A Matter of Color

The demand in Britain for brown eggs, while in New York the demand is for white eggs. Why that is so no one seems able to explain. A possible explanation is that brown eggs harmonize with baked goods and brown bread, while white eggs do not.

Deaths from snake bite in India amount to $1,000,000 yearly.

Causes Injury to Dominion

Thoughtless and Malicious Statements of Men

The injury with which Canada is threatened by thoughtless or malicious statements of persons living in this country is indicated by the case of Capt. George Hickman, one of the British settlers who recently arrived in Canada to take up a farm in the farming district of Alberta under the family farm settlement scheme. As Capt. Hickman was travelling to his new home, fellow passengers on the train were Canadians, gave him such discouraging reports that he was convinced he had been deceived. He determined to go on to the Edmonton office of the land settlement branch of the department of immigration, and colonization in order to give a piece of his mind to Major Gordon, the officer in charge there.

On his arrival at Edmonton he reported to Major Gordon what he had been told by fellow passengers and demanded to know why the Canadian government authorities meant by imposing on him. It would go back to the beginning and expose the whole business.

Major Gordon listened to the story without comment, and when the captured had finished, produced a card from a desk.

"How would you like a farm like the one I have just described? It would be a very important asset, and then proceed to read the description."

"That would be fine. I wouldn't lose for anything as good," was the rejoinder.

"Well, this is the farm that has been advertised from the first," said Major Gordon.

After personal inspection of the farm, Capt. Hickman is enthusiastic over it.

"It is absolutely satisfactory in every way and I am highly pleased," he said. "The house is a beautiful house in excellent condition, and we are looking forward with the highest hopes."

This has one case of misrepresentation been completely answered. But there may be many others in which the thoughtless or malicious falsehood is not so quickly run to earth. Canadians who believe their country at the expense of misrepresentation abroad, and do not go to the best interests of Canada.

Canada's Forest Loss Compared

Financial Loss In One Year Of $46,696,722

If, through fire, insecticide, the total area in Canada of spruce and fir, white, of pine, and of poplar, 22,500,000 acres, were burned over and destroyed for six years in succession, this country would be in a bad way. Canada, however, has burned annually 1,000,000 acres of forest land, or 100,000 acres of young growth, of various ages, representing the annual increment on 20 to 25 million acres. In other words, while the forest has not increased an acre and a half to make them commercially valuable, the total number of years of growth would be equivalent to the common annual growth stated above. Unfortunately, over this area the loss is not only in the timber, but in the land. In 1922 there were 451,000 acres burned over, with a direct loss of $16,697,722.

Major-General Strange

Commanded Relief Expedition in the Position of 1895

Not only have we men still with us in the full vigor of life who were members of the Edmonton home guard of the rebellion days in '95, but the soldier who remembered the relief expedition and had then a long and distinguished military record of his credit to his country. The most recent edition of the British "Who's Who" records that Major-General Thomas Strange is approaching his thirty-fourth birthday, his address being Cambridge, Surrey county, England. He served in the Indian Mutiny and in the relief of Lucknow, distinguishing himself by leading a charge of artillery and capturing two guns. He was later in command of the fortress of Quebec and had taken up marching past Calgary three years before the outbreak of 1895—Edmonton Journal.

Of these 719 were exported to Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba; 121 in the United Kingdom; 33 in the United States; 47 in the West Indies; 16 in New Zealand; 13 in Cuba; 29 cars in Scandinavia; 1 in Cuba; 1 in Belgium.

Chinook Gossip

Swan Edun & Co. transacted business in Macleod last Friday. Considerable wheat has been hauled to market in this district the last ten days.

Swan Edun and Harry Sahlen returned from R. C. a few days ago.

A large number of friends, including Sir John of the barleymen family, spent Sunday at the home of Algot Ostrom and a few returned home top heavy.

Another farmer retired in this district in the form of Arthur Edun. Mr. Edun came to the Gramin district from Minnesota about 15 years ago. He started farming in this district about 10 years ago, in which he was successful to the extent that he is now able to go on the retired list. His health also required it. Mr. Edun contemplates taking a cruise around the world, perhaps next winter if not sooner; after that he will look up a home in a southern clime, perhaps California. He will be much missed by his many friends and particularly his near neighbors.

J. A. MCCOLL

Special representative of the Vancouver Harbour Commissioners in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Bringing home to grain growers and shippers the advantages of the Vancouver grain route and the grain handling facilities of the Port of Vancouver. Mr. McColl is visiting every grain centre in Alberta and Saskatchewan this summer following the route of the Vancouver Harbour Commissioners and is personally calling upon grain shippers to make them acquainted with the Vancouver line and the advantages of a shipping service.

Having been an Alberta farmer for 14 years, and being born and raised on a cattle farm, Mr. McColl is thoroughly conversant with the practical knowledge of the grain situation that is so appreciable to the grain grower. The experience gained on the land has been amplified by personal meetings of the Vancouver location and the advantages of the shipping service.

If you Mr. McColl, at the time of his visit, who has been responsible for the present government policy, will be the Board of the Vancouver Harbour Commissioners, please to contact him and learn from him the advantages of the Vancouver line and the advantages of a shipping service.
